Wherefore the "Blooming Lily" Club Appeared in Court

ABOUT TWENTY ARRESTS

Henrico Circuit Court Begins its Session-Very Serious Charges Against a Very Small Boy-Other Henrico News.

Swell society from Penitentiary Bottom, Bloodfield, Jackson Ward, and other pots here and there gathered like a dark cloud at Henrico Courthouse yesterday and tried to tell 'Squire Lowis why pistols and knives and lamps and razors and bludgeons figured in a recent dance held somewhere out in the county. The little court-room was packed to suffocation, with perspiring men and women, representing the choice portion of the "Blooming Lily Club" a swell negro dancing school that operates at ten cents apiece in a hall at Claiborne and Washington Streets. The women were rigged out in all their finery. There were about a hundred men there, too, but they were not quite so spruce and gay. Some of them bore the marks of the dance, and wore patches on their faces and hands of hend where they had come into rough contact with a knife, lamps or something.

contact with a knife, lamps or something.
One of them came in laboriously on crutches; he had been shot and badly hurt in the row.

The testimony was as veritable a tangle as ever confronted a magistrate. The row began when two women got to fighting, and the disturbance rapidly spread through the room. Knives and pistols ing, and the disturbance rapidly spread through the room. Knives and pistols sprang out and the dance was suddenly converted into a kneck-down and dragout, Hard licks were hit, and the place resounded with howls and yells. A young negro who said he "wuz playin de planner, shut off the music and started to leave when a lamp cracked him beside the head and knocked him out. There were four or five lamps in the room and all of them were hurled by the rioters until the place was in uter darkness. Then the fighting crowd surged line rioters until the place was in utter darkness. Then the fighting crowd surged into the street and continued the fight until the police swooped down on them.

About twenty of the people were arrested and a lot of others were gobbled upfor witnesses. All of them were in court yesterday trying to tell about it. 'Squire Lewis worked long and hard on the crowd and finally succeeded in clearing the room. He made about fourteen of the people give bond to keep the peace and then issued warrants for five or six others. These latter are the worst in the bunch and are the ones charged with the bad shooting and cutting.

The Lenrico Circuit Court began its The Lenrico Circuit Court began its session yesterday. Several cases were set for trial. The docket is a fairly long are but is rade up for the most part of ancil come. The session of the court will second to-day.

desk therein. The case was continued until to-day.

The robbery occurred last Friday in the early afternoon. The window to the office was prized open and the rollertop desk of Mr Fulton was cut between the slats. Cash amounting to a little over six dollars was taken. The thief overlooked a considerably larger amount of money in another part of the desk.

Young Newman had been seen about the place during the day and he was arrested on suspicion. The case was called before 'Squire Lewis yesterday, but had to be continued until to-day on account of the absence of an important witness. The testimony so far as it has been heard in court, is very slight against the boy.

Constable T. H. Franklin is out again after a rather severe spell of sickness.

TWO STILL SUFFER FROM STRIKE WOUNDS

Two of the young men in Company K, of Staunton, who were wounded by the accidental discharge of a Springfield riffe cartridge in front of the Lombardy School on June 23d, have not yet fully recovered from their injuries at that time. The bullet struck the curb and split into fragments, one of which struck to Private William Devericks and another Corporal Wynn. Several others were struck by flying pellets, but not seriously hurt. Devericks and Wynn were both more seriously hurt than at first supposed. Devericks was struck in the thigh, and the piece of bullet was never Iccated, even with the Xray. Wynn was shot in the foot. Both men have been patients at the Memorial Hospital. Their wounds have proved unusually stubborn. Wynn has gone home, and Devericks, though not yet well, will probably go some this week.

at 3 o'clock this afternoon, and the burial will be in Maury Cemetery.

Mr.-Foese ended his life yesterday morning about 11 o'clock at his home by firing a builet through his brain. No definite cause can be ascertained for the act. He had been in ill health for several days, and it is thought that he killed himself while mentally deranged through despondency.

He was in his thirtieth year and unmarted.

Coroner Brodnax examined the body and thought an inquest unnecessary. The bedy was then turned over to the family and prepared for burial by Undertaker Morrisett.

SUNDAY NIGHT FIRE.

What might have been a most disastrous fire was put out about 12 o'clock Sunday night by fine work on the part of the fire department.

The fire started in a rear room on the third floor of the Beattle Building, and was caused by a defective wire. The flames had gained pretty good headway between the ceiling and the root, and it was through quick work on the part of the firemen that they did not spread and envelop the entire block, which is in the business center of the city. The effects of Mr. W. R. Martin, who occupied the second floor, were damaged by water, and the stock of groceries in Mr. J. C. Rice's store, on the first floor, was also damaged in the same way.

The total damage, however, is not great, and will probably be covered by $400, which is protected by insurance.

F. T. McFaden, D. D., of Lynchburg, will be called to the pulpit to succeed Dr. R. P. Kerr, now of Baltimore.

Announcement was made Sunday at the First Church to the effect that the Pulpit Committee was prepared to make a report and that a congregational meeting will be held Sunday. This announcement is significant of many things. A prominent member of the committee stated a day or two ago that no action would be taken until something definite was heard from Dr. McFaden. The call for a church meeting is taken to indicate that Dr. McFaden has at last written and moreover written favorably, else the committee would not report at all. The call will therefore be extended, and will in all probability be accepted.

Dr. McFaden is unusually popular in Lynchburg, where he is paster of the First Presbyterlan Church. He is grand chaplain of the Royal Arcanum in Virginia, and grand prelate of the Knights Templar. Dr. McFaden is about thirty-six years of age. He is a native of Saulsbury, Md., and was educated at Hampden-Sidney, where he took his degree in 1886. He attended Union Thheological Seminary and took the degree of Bachelor of Drinkity in 1889, During the same year he was licensed to preach by the Winchester Presbytery.

SOME STRONG WORDS

Rev, G. H. Spooner Fires a Volley at the Higher Critics.

Rev, G. H. Spooner Fires a Volley at the Higher Critics.

In the course of a strong sermon, on the text, "Nevertheless, when the Son of Man cometh, will he find faith on the earth?" Rev. G. W. Spooner, of Trinity Methodist Church, on Sunday night poured a lively volley into the position of the higher critic and aesthetic religionist.

Among other very strong sentences the earnest speaker said: "So far as I am concerned, I say, to hell with a religion that is all head and no heart!" This was said in connection with the statement that the speaker had heard a Methodist say recently that it was alimportant that the Speaker had heard a Methodist say recently that it was alimportant that the Younger ministers of the conference should studiously prepare themselves to be able to discuss the advanced thought of the day and thus entertain and instruct in a becoming manner cultured and educated audiences; that the people now demand intellectual and up-to-date preaching, and if it is not furnished by men within our borders, the churches demanding this supply will be forced to import it.

The speaker made it very clear that he was in favor of education and culture, but protested that the religion of the Bible is spiritual and should not be sacrificed to fashion or to that "learning" which saps the foundation of true picty. He was especially severe on the higher criticism, which mutitates the Scriptures and distorts their plain meaning. He believed in the Bible, in all the Bible, and believed it meant what it said, and he proposed to stand by the religion in which our fathers and mothers lived and died, and which carried them shouling home to giory—a religion that demands heart repentance for sin and vital heart union with the Saylour from sin.

The sermon made a profound impression, and was delivered in the characteristic, earnest and eloquent manner for which the preacher is justly noted.
